

ECS Exceeds Customer Expectations

– Dun & Bradstreet

Enterprise Acquisition Gateway for Leading-Edge Solutions (EAGLE)

ECS is a leading Small Business provider of Information Technology, Systems Engineering and Telecommunications Services to Federal Government clients. Having won numerous awards for growth, diversity and customer satisfaction, ECS continues on the path of excellence by exceeding our customers' expectations.

ECS's EAGLE Contract Services

Enterprise Development

- Infrastructure engineering design
- Structured software development
- Legacy software migration (COBOL, CICS, DB2, Unisys)
- Web development (e.g. Java, HTML & XML)
- Object oriented development (Java & MS Active X)
- Database development (Oracle, Sybase and SQL Server)
- Network security design (Firewalls, IDS, Emergency Response)
- LAN, MAN, WAN, VPN, design & installation
- Router / switch integration
- Telecommunications switch installation
- Audio & video teleconferencing
- Large-scale system integration

Mission Support

- Concept Development
- Requirements Definition & Analysis
- Enterprise Architecture, architecture frameworks
- Service Oriented Architecture (SOA)
- System Design - Development - Integration
- System planning & documentation
- Configuration management (PVCS, CM PLUS)
- Quality assurance
- Testing & evaluation
- COOP scenario planning & testing
- Training
- Logistics Planning - Deployment

ECS Key 2006 Facts

- $28 million in sales
- 160 personnel
- Top Secret Facility Clearance
- ISO 9001:2000
- CMMI Level 3
- Small Disadvantaged Business

ECS is Delivering Mission Critical Solutions for the Federal Government

- Voice, video, and data services across the U.S.
- Internal and external agency web portals to ensure better communications
- Data storage and retrieval
- Wireless communication services to ensure reliable communications

I wanted to express my sincere gratitude for the ECS group that came in this weekend to help with the Katrina relief effort.... The Hotline group is quite an asset to the FCC under normal circumstances, and when faced with a challenge, they are even more valuable! – FCC Customer